The W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Sadie Webb, and the following program was given: Reading of scripture; hymn, "Nearer my God to Thee"; prayer by the president; roll call responded to by favorite verses of scripture. At the business meeting Mrs. Etta McCormick was elected corresponding secretary and Mrs. Sadie Webb recording secretary to take the place of those elected at the reorganization who declined to serve. The mothers' meeting was in charge of Mrs. Sadie Webb, the subject being "Purity in Literature and Art." "Why Girls and Boys Go Wrong," by Mrs. McCormick; "Which White Badge," by Mrs. Anna Hatch; "Elevate the Standard of Journalism," Mrs. May Gillis; "The Outcast," Mrs. Mary Bovee; "The White Slave Traffic," Mrs. Kate Oederkirk; "The Lure of Luxury," Mrs. Mary Hunt; "The Slaughter of the Innocent," Mrs. Webb. Adjourned in two weeks.

"Rally Day" exercises at the Congregational church took the place of the morning service Sunday. There was singing by a chorus choir of appropriate songs and a few exercises by the young people of the Sunday school. The two speakers from out of town who were expected to be present, were unable to come. The pastor gave a brief address and several of the men spoke on different phases of the work of the school and made an appeal for the co-operation of every one in the important work of the Sunday school. There was a good attendance and the front of the church was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and flags. At the Methodist church the exercises were held at the regular Sunday school hour and was largely attended. The speaking and singing by the young people was much enjoyed. Brief addresses were given, Mrs. Louise Richards of Somerville, Mass., being one of the speakers.

RECENT DEATHS

Batchelder.

Mrs. Frank E. Batchelder died Friday at her home on Pearl street after two years' illness with Bright's disease. She suffered a shock on Sunday from which she never recovered consciousness. She was devoted to her family, a kind neighbor and had many friends. Julia St. Joek was born in Underhill November 25, 1865, to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Daniel St. Joek. She lived in Underhill and Stowe until her marriage to Frank E. Batchelder on June 2, 1883. They have resided in St. Johnsbury for about fifteen years.

Mr. Batchelder and two children, Lena Julia and Charles Cameron, survive her. She also leaves four brothers, Ira St. Joek, St. Albans; Joseph J., of Hardwick; Peter and Charles of Stowe; two half brothers, Henry, of Central Falls, R. I., and William of Elmore; three sisters, Mrs. Daniel Talbert of Middlebury, Mrs. Edward Douglas of Waterbury, and Mrs. Belle Reynolds of Morrisville, and a half sister, Mrs. George Tetreault of Providence, R. I.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. G. W. C. Hill officiating, and the North church quartet sang. There were many beautiful flowers, sent to show respect and affection. The bearers were Mrs. Batchelder's four own brothers. Interment was at Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Those from away who attended the funeral were Mrs. Daniel Talbert, Ira, Joseph, Peter and Charles St. Joek; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Batchelder, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Batchelder, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Batchelder of Lyndon Center, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Shurburne and son, Arthur, of East Burke, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Russell of Stowe, Miss Grace Foster of Johnson, Mrs. Orrin Colby of Swanton, Mr. and Mrs. William Strew and Walter Strew of McIndoes.

1848. On July 3, 1865, she was married to Arthur P. Knapp of Haverhill, N. H. To them seven children were born: Charles E., Frank, Harry B., Herbert A., James L., Warren J., and Clara A., of whom Frank and James L. died in infancy.

Although an invalid for the greater part of her life, she was brave, cheery and unselfish. Her loving devotion to her dear ones made her home life beautiful, yet of late she had longed for her home beyond, and entered it in perfect faith and love.

The funeral services were held at her late home Saturday afternoon at two o'clock and were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Peter Black. She leaves beside her husband and children, one brother, Moses Clough, of Rockland, Mass., two sisters, Mrs. John A. Clark of Littleton, N. H., and Mrs. Thomas Forbes of Sugar Hill, N. H., and two grandchildren, Florence G., and Collett H. Knapp.

Padelford-Smith.

The following is taken from the Pasadena Daily News of September 9: A very pretty and novel wedding took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sumner Smith at 1340 South Marengo avenue, when their daughter, Sadie Rodah, was united in marriage to Frank Henry Padelford. The rustic scheme was carried out throughout the evening, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Charles Scott of the Lincoln avenue church, beneath a graceful arch of pepper-boughs, under an immense live oak tree at the front of the house. The company marched to the altar to the strains of Lohengrin, played by Miss Ella Alcock, niece of the groom. The procession was led by little Gracie Burns, who carried a mammoth rose in the heart of which was the wedding ring. Miss Carlene Smith, sister of the bride, and Miss Florence Alcock, niece of the groom, acted as flower girls, scattering their path with rose petals. The bride was gowned in an embroidered batiste with a veil which was caught in her hair with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride roses.

Tables were prettily decorated with smilax and roses under the oak tree and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. F. A. Cooper, sister of the bride, and Misses Clara Polsenenthal and Cora Henry, nieces of the groom, served at the punch bowl. Mrs. Charles S. Smith, mother of the bride, and Mrs. S. M. Padelford, mother of the groom, received. Many beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass, linen and china were received by the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Padelford immediately left for San Diego and Old Mexico for their honeymoon and will be at home at Pira after September 21, where Mr. Padelford is a well known fruit grower.

My Creed.

The following poem is by Howard Arnold Walter, a young Congregational preacher in Glasgow, Scotland.
I would be true, for there are those who trust me;
I would be pure, for there are those who care;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave, for there is much to dare;
I would be friend of all—the foe, the friendless;
I would be giving, and forget the gift;
I would be humble, for I know my weakness;
I would look up, and laugh, and love, and lift.
